

WINE LIST

Simon's Special Selection

Wines are graded as follows and I have, over the years, drunk all of these styles, but choose now only to drink wines in the last two categories:

Disgusting	Pretty awful	Best avoided	Disappointing	Acceptable
Good	Recommended	Highly Recommended	Outstanding/Exceptional

The wines below are my personal favourites and recommendations at this moment in time and are most certainly in the last two categories.

HOUSE WINES

These two wines have the qualities of wines priced double on many bespoke lists. I classify these as our 'House' wine.

Château Mongiron, 2009 Bordeaux Red

21.50

This family estate is situated on calcareous-clay slopes on the right bank of the Garonne in the village of Nérigean. The quality of the terroir, the meticulously worked vines and careful vinification make Château Mongiron a reference within the appellation. This classic vintage displays a very fruity nose with notes of blackcurrant and cherry. The palate is perfectly balanced with fleshy, concentrated extract and fine length borne by the silky tannins and no real surprise here that it won a Gold Medal in Paris in 2010.

Domain Gibault, 2009 Sauvignon Blanc

21.50

Between Sancerre and the Muscadet region is the appellation of Touraine. The famous Sauvignon vine is planted here, to great success and is giving us great value and pleasure. The Domain Gibault Sauvignon style is dry, but with great characters and middle palate fruit to suit everybody, not only as an enjoyable glass of wine on its own, but with many white meat dishes.
